Why the theme of the Forum is interesting? This topic is very important today, since young people are often “puppets” in the hands of extremists.

Saierakhon Gapurova

Age: 19 years old

Nationality: Kyrgyzstan

Education: Atatürk Alatu International University

Experience in social projects: The project "Art of the Heart" is aimed at the development of children with serious illnesses like autism, down syndrome, etc. in general for children with serious diagnoses in Kyrgyzstan. The project is implemented in AIESEC in Kyrgyzstan. "Children of the Sun" in the international youth organization AIESEC in Kyrgyzstan. The project "Doing study, not war" (research instead of struggle), based on the creation of a youth movement, the essence of which is the exchange of skills and knowledge in various fields of science or art for free.

Why the theme of the Forum is interesting? The topic of the forum touches on the sphere that I am studying. International relations are based on the concept of creating interactive and peaceful relations between countries, which subsequently jointly solve acute problems. It is for the above reasons that the topic interests and inspires.

Jawhara Mustafa

Age: 20 years old

Nationality: Egypt

Education: Bachelor of International Relations at KIMEP University

Experience in social projects: Volunteer in an international non-profit organization, assistance in community development projects, volunteer in orphanages, participation in a competition to raise awareness of environmental issues.

Why the theme of the Forum is interesting? The topic of youth cooperation in the field of intercultural dialogue and prevention of religious extremism is very interesting for me, because religious and cultural traditions have long caused conflicts around the world, and the group most affected is young people who are constantly marginalized. Young people oppressed, subjected to radicalization and used to express their ideas.

Akmaral Satinbaeva

Age: 29 years old
